The fortieth vintage of Hubert de Boüard de Laforest

After working alongside his father for five years, Hubert de Boüard de Laforest signs his fortieth vintage in 2024, a milestone that his daughter Stéphanie de Boüard-Rivoal wished to honour. Named “The Rebel”, this 2024 vintage has a taste for adversity and challenge, two powerful motivators that historically have allowed Angelus to produce truly great wines.

Saint-Émilion Grand Cru

Following a mild, wet winter, spring was unusually rainy too – except for a brief interlude during flowering – all the way until June.

The old proverb “August makes the must” once again confirmed what our ancestors always said. Dry and sunny July and August brought back smiles, and our grapes gained taste, substance and character.

September, though more uncertain, enabled us to ensure a reasonably abundant harvest and to pick some very nice grapes.

The deep, purple colour bears witness to the weather conditions in Bordeaux this vintage.

The nose, initially bright and opulent, opens up to reveal the great ripeness of the Merlot grapes, before the delicacy and complexity of the Cabernet Franc comes through, with hints of spice, menthol and flowers. Violet and peony enrich the peppery nuances.

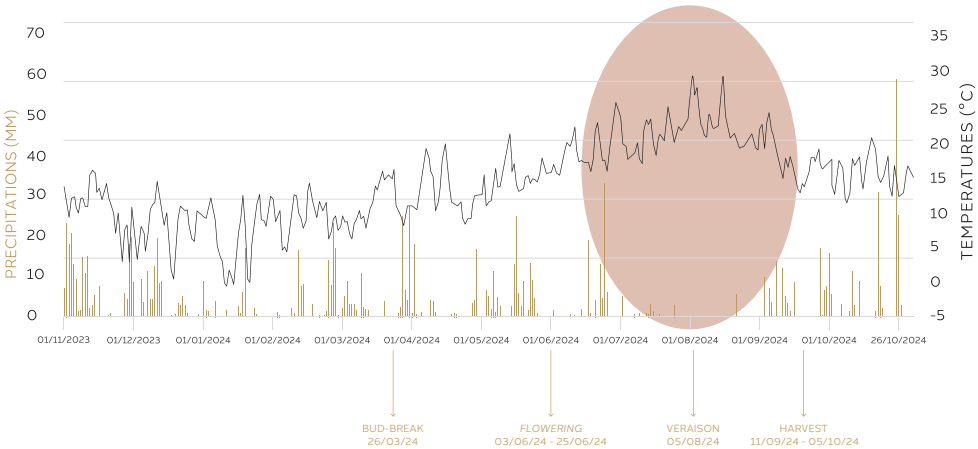

The palate, juicy, full of flavour and energetic, instantly reveals dense, rich tannins with the texture of cashmere. The oak, a discreet support for the wine, rounds off the well-balanced structure, a guarantee of very good ageing potential.

BLEND 60% Merlot, 40% Cabernet Franc

HARVEST September 11 to October 6
