CHÂTEAU MAUCAILLOU 2025

AOC Moulis-en-Médoc

150ème Vendange

James Suckling 92-93

Fresh and refined, with polished tannins and a precise nature. It's medium-bodied with a caressing finish. Harmonious for such a young wine.

Markus Del Monego 93

Dark purple colour with violet hue and black core. Expressive nose with ripe dark berries and hints of black stone fruit, gingerbread spices and toasting. On the palate well balanced with velvety character and convincing length.

Antonio Galloni 90-92

The 2025 Maucaillou is an attractive, highly aromatic Moulis. Cedar, sweet pipe tobacco, dried herbs, incense, licorice and leather meld into a core of pliant, expansive fruit. This is an especially somber style, with forbidding tannins that will require a measure of patience.

Jane Anson 91

Powerful rich purple colour, high cloves, spiced cocoa bean and smoked earth, this has high extraction, walks the line but stays on the right side of bitter. Chalky tannins as it opens, allowing the fruit to appear. 30% new oak. Harvest 8 to 22 September.

Peter Moser 91

Deep dark ruby garnet, opaque core, violet reflections, delicate edge brightening. Some nougat, dark berry fruit, a hint of herbs, somewhat restrained bouquet. Medium complexity, subtle plum fruit, integrated tannins, some nougat, needs time.

Sweet coffee and liquorice on the nose with a hint of sloe berries. The palate is a bit fragile, though fine and precise, moderately concentrated, and short. Red cherries and red plums dominate the flavour, with fine-grained tannins supporting the structure. Quite accessible already

Red fruit but also vegetal, slightly stemmy aromatics lead into a palate that feels a touch rough around the edges, with raw tannins making their presence known. The wine nonetheless performs better than expected, perhaps the clay soils lend a moderating hand in the vintage's dry heat. There's enough underlying fruit to carry it, even if the structure remains a bit rugged for now.

Already quite expressive. Dark- and red-fruit notes. Palate juicy and fleshy, the tannins ripe, the finish clean. Good intermediate drinking.

Deep and intense fruit, almost full-bodied and very concentrated, this wine will require some cellaring as the tannins are notable. Is it however in fine balance and just needs time to come together.

Flowers, and currants are on display in the perfume. The medium-bodied palate is soft, round, fruity, and creamy allowing you to enjoy this on release and for 10-12 years after that with pleasure. Drink from 2028-2038.
